

MAKER CARNIVAL 创客嘉年华

2014/10/2 - 2014/10/3 Beijing

The background image shows a vast, brightly lit exhibition hall filled with people. In the foreground, several long tables are set up with various items, likely handmade or technological projects. People are seen interacting with these displays, some looking at screens or talking to others. The ceiling is high with numerous recessed lights, and the overall atmosphere is one of a busy, interactive event. The text is overlaid in a bold, black font, providing context for the scene.

The Maker Carnival is the biggest event that combines makers and art in China, it's also an amusement park that provides a platform for technology interactions

Hundreds thousand of people gathering around here

Becoming the pioneering assembly of Chinese makers
